

I'm Mucan

A Software engineer

Mucan Daniel Akpan

I create content designed to inspire people.

My main goal is to always provide excellent services to all people, wherever you are all across the world. My Background in 3D modelling, Graphic designing and Civil Engineering has helped me in my programming journey, because I was able to incorporate those skillsets into my current field.

Skills

Web development

I started doing the web development course in 2022, and so far I have learned quite a lot of stuff. My transition from Civil engineering to Software engineering is an experience I will never forget.

Graphic Designing

I learned graphic designing in 2015 and I have quite a number of years doing this. This skillset is very applicable in web development, which gives me an edge as a programmer.

3D Modelling

I started learning 3D modelling in 2018, it was a very fascinating field and it peaked my interest. I learned various things while doing 3D modelling and I became better at it until I started to do freelancing as a 3D artist.
